The Qualities of Pure Water.

The Qualities of Pure Water.

"Water" was the title, but not the substance, of Professor Fava's lecture at the Columbian University last night. He gave a very substantial description of the qualities of pure water and how water becomes polluted, illustrating with diagrams the effect of cesspools, or of inditrations of farm refuse, factory refuse or cemeteries, upon springs or especially shallow wells. He then showed the poisoning of water by lead pipes. He terminated with a good word for the American people, saying that in this country people in large cities need not be first talked into or obliged to have a water supply or sewerage system against their will, but that every little place, as soon as it feels able to, longs for these necessities of health and comfort, no matter what personal sacrifices and taxation it entails.

A Cowardly Murder.

A Cowardly Murder.

One of the most brutal and cowardly of all nurders came to light last Tuesday morning. Officer Rellly of the Second Precinct Station-House found another child which had been killed and abandoned. It had been stabbed several times in the throat, as if by a pair of scissors. The child was found on Second street, between New York arenue and N street, but such discoveries are so common that the matter was not even reported to Police Headquarters. Coroner Patterson held an inquest, the verdict being that the child had been murdered.

The Championship Prize Drill.

At the prize drill for the championship of the District at the Masonic Temple last night the prize, a gold medal, was won by J. B. K. Lee, Company D, Washington Light Infantry Corps, H. Meyers second. The Ordway Rifles had the honor of keeping two men in the contest longer than any other company—Sergeant Shane and Corporal Miller. Thrown From His Buggy.

Mr. William Godfrey of Forestville was thrown from his buggy near Anacostia yesterday by the breaking of the buggy axle, and, becoming entaugled in the wreck, was dragged about 100 yards. He was badly bruised and rendered unconscious, but his injuries are not considered serious. Damages Given for His Injuries

On November 1, 1887, Basil Bell, while driving his cart along Pennsylvania avenue, between Ninth and Teuth streets, was run into by a Herdie coach and had his arm broken and his horse killed. The jury in Judge Montgomery's Court yesterday gave him $750 damages against the Herdie Com-pany.

B. & O. tickets, good on the Limited Excursion Trains to New York via the B. & O., will be honored on all trains, including the Vestbuiled Limited Express, Round-trip rate only $6.50. Tickets will be on sale April 27 to 30, and for train leaving B. & O. Station S.a.m. May 1. Good returning returning until May 6, inclusive. Not a Clear Explanation.

William Robinson is a colored man, and Jane Parker is the proprietress of a number of chickens. William said that he went into Mrs. Parker's yard after his dogs, but the chickens were believed to have more to do with the case than he would admit. He was fined $20. $6.50 to New York and Return.

The B. & O. R. R. Co, will sell excursion tickets to New York for all trains, April 27 to 30, and for train leaving B. & O. depot at 8 a. m., May 1. Tickets valid returning mail May 6 inclusive. Round trip only $6.50. The Guards Will Go.

The Interior Department, Sixth Auditor, Postoffice, and Treasury Guards will leave Washington for New York to attend the Centennial Celebration by the B. & P. R. R., at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning. All the members will meet at 7:30 at their hall, corner of Eighth and E streets.

A Trial Will demonstrate that our values cannot be approached by any other house in the city. Have you examined the child's suits we are selling at $2,50° Eiseman Bros., Seventh and E, Boya' and Children's Department.

Since the purchase of Ataska it can be said of the United States what has been said of England for the last century—that the sun never sets on her dominious. At sunset in Alaska the next moraling's sun is an hour high in Maine.

Mr. Randall Will Not Remain Here During the Hot Months.

Congressman Samuel J. Randall is out house-hunting, says a Philadelphia paper. That is to say, the Philadelphia Congressman is making ready to pass the hot months somewhere among the flowers and springs. He doesn't like Washington in the warm weather. Mr. Randall has never quite recovered from his serious iliness in the early part of 1888, and his arduous duties at Washington have begin to tell on him. The Congressman has decided that he will move about the middle of June. When that time rolls around he will pack up his goods and chattels and will make for some snug spot near Haverford. Just what particular house Mr. Randall will spend the summer in has not been decided. He has several under consideration, but he finds it hard to settle down. During the Hot Months.

The Congregationalists.

The Congregational Association of New Jersey, which includes forty-one churches in New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, met at the Congregational Church yesterday morning, and after transacting general business and listening to the secretary's annual report adjourned to call upon the President. At the afternoon session a paper was read by Rev. John L. Scudder, D. D., of Jersey City, on "What Are the Safeguards of Congregationalism Against Error?" The evening session was devoted to receiving reports from the national boards of the church. The report of the American Missionary Association was made by the Rev. Dr. M. E. Strieby. He discussed the future status of the colored man in this country. He believed the only way this great question could be solved was by the education of the colored people.

could be solved was by the education of the colored people.

At this morning's meeting Rev. C. H. Patton opened the discussion on "How Far it Is Destrable to Secure Civil Legislation on the Observance of the Lord's Day." Dr. Patton is the son of President Patton of Howard University, The prayer meeting was led by Rev. J. K. Mason, D. D., of Herndon, Va.

This afternoon a business meeting was held and reports heard. Rev. W. H. Ward, D. D., of New York opened the afternoon's discussion on the question, "Is it Desirable to Restate the Evangelical Doctrines?"

Closing the Postoffices Next Monday

Closing the Postoffices Next Monday.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker yesterday issued the following order:

"The President having recommended that, as a part of the order of observance of the centennial of the inauguration of the first President, a portion of the 30th day of April, 1889, be set aside for prayer and thanksgiving—

"In conformity thereto it is ordered:
"I. Postmasters are authorized to observe the usual holiday hours on that day.

"2. Where it is possible to do so without detriment to the public service, their postoffices should be closed at or before 9 o'clock a. m., in order that the employes may have an opportunity to comply with

"3. Postmasters must arrange for the re-ceipt and dispatch of mail that may arrive and depart during the time the postoffice is closed."

New York Excursion.

New York Excursion.

The opening of the B. & O. line to New York has resulted in giving the people of Washington the benefit of half-fare excursion tickets to the metropolis upon the first suitable occasion that offered. This event is the celebration of the Centennial of Washington's inauguration, and the B. & O. amounced a round-trip rate of $6.50 to New York and return, with privilege of going upon any train, including the vestibuled limited, from April 27 to 30, and train leaving Washington 8 a. m., May I. All tickets valid for return passage until May 6, inclusive.

The Lyceum Dramatic Company.

The Lyceum Dramatic Company.

The Lyceum Dramatic Company entertained a large audience at the opera house at St. Elizabeth last night, presenting their initial performance of Dion Boucleault's beautiful drama of the "Colleen Bawu."
The cast was an excellent one, including
W. H. Dougherty, Edward Brent, Anita
Paine, Marie Lamb, Mina Medway, Ettie
McLinden, Theo. Friebus, Jr., Felix Mahony, A. E. Middleton and G. W. Allen.
The Lyceum Company will play an engagement at Rockville, Md., on Saturday evening next, when a large number of their friends accompany them.
